

Annual conference 2024

Edda, University of Iceland, Thursday 7 November

Program

10.00-10.10	Gylfi Zoega	PRICE activities in year 2024
10.10-10.30	Andri S. Scheving	The determinants of early retirement in Iceland
10.30-11.00	Jón Guðjónsson	Herd behavior of pension funds: Consequences for financial markets and financial stability
11.00-11.30	Coffee break
11.30-12.00	Þorsteinn S. Sveinsson	How informed are Icelanders about their pension rights?
12.00-12.45	Svend Hougaard Jensen	Choice architecture and pension communication

Andri Sigmarsson Scheving has recently completed an MSc degree in economics at Aarhus University in Denmark. His presentation is based on the thesis that Andri worked on under the supervision of Torben Andersen.

Jón Guðjónsson is a PhD student at Copenhagen Business School (CBS). His lecture is based on the (unfinished) first chapter of his dissertation.

Þorsteinn S. Sveinsson is an economist in the Economics and Monetary Policy division of the Central Bank of Iceland and a director of PRICE.

Svend Hougaard Jensen is professor of economics at Copenhagen Business School (CBS) and a director of PeRCent at CBS. The center is a sister institution to PRICE at the University of Iceland.